Full Proceedings of the Convention.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, July 13.

Providence favored the Democrats of Ohio and sent refreshing showers down upon the parched earth and suffocating humidity, last night. Political enthusiasm rose in an immense ratio to the descent of the mercurial column, and at midnight the scenes presented were of the genuine Convention character.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The State Central Committee met last night at the office of the State Insurance Department, with Hon. John G. Thompson in the chair, and Clark Irvine as Secretary. The 4th, 7th, 13th, 14th and 16th Congressional districts were not represented. The following members of the Committee were present: 2nd district, W. T. Bishop; 3rd, H. P. Clough; 8th, J. E. McKinney; 9th, Clark Irvine; 10th, W. E. Haynes; 11th, Charles Rose; 12th, John G. Thompson; 16th, David Okey; 19th, Henry Athorp; James Edwin Spear had W. L. O'Brien's proxy for the first district; W. Hull had General M. Meily's for the 5th district; H. C. Grosch-nor had L. L. Orwig's for the 6th district; J. S. Warwick had J. G. Warwick's for the 17th district; David Page had L. S. Murray's, for the 18th district, and W. W. Armstrong had John H. Farley's for the 20th district.

The committee decided on the following temporary organization: Chairman, J. Edwin Spear, of Cincinnati; Secretary, W. J. Gleason, of Cleveland; Assistant Secretaries, George Maul, of Sandusky, and Thomas Wetzler, of Lancaster.

Mr. Spear, after his selection, went to the Park Hotel and consulted with Senator Pendleton. He finally sent a letter of acceptance to John G. Thompson, Chairman of the Committee.

HURD RESOLUTION.

The following is the famous Hurd resolution:

Resolved, That the power of taxation in the Federal Government was designed and should be exercised only for raising revenue for its support, and that for the purpose of raising such revenue more justly and equally we demand a revision of the present system of tariff taxation in order that the business imposed by it on agriculture, commerce and manufactures may be removed, and that steadier employment and better wages may be afforded American workmen.

At 9 o'clock this morning, the delegations met by districts in the rooms assigned at the State House, and made their organizations. There were no episodes deserving mention in any except in Franklin and Hamilton counties.

At ten, the arrival of the large delegations of workmen who favor Book-walter made considerable excitement upon the streets. The heat was increasing every hour.

RESOLUTION COMMITTEE MEETING.

Mr. Ebert, of the Eleventh District, moved that Hon. Gibson Atherton, of Licking county, act as permanent chairman. Seconded and carried.

Mr. Atherton took his chair and thanked the committee for the honor.

Mr. E. G. Hewitt, of the First District, was elected secretary.

The districts were called in the order of their numbers, each one presenting, as his name was called, such resolutions as he had prepared or had in hand. After they had been read, General Wamer moved that they be submitted to a sub-committee of five, to be appointed by the Chair. The motion was carried, and the chair appointed the following: A. J. Warner, Hon. E. H. Hurd, H. J. Niles, Hon. C. A. Vallandigham and Allen O. Myers.

The committee then adjourned for one hour—until 2 o'clock.

This afternoon they again convened and framed the platform, which will be found in the proceedings of the committee proper.

THE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Convention assembled at Comstock's Opera House, this morning. Notwithstanding the deluging rain of last night the air was close, and the delegations in the parquette kept a vigorous manipulation of fans. The Cadet Band occupied the gallery, and at intervals caused forgetfulness of the heat by their melody.

The gallery was well filled by spectators and in fact the preliminary session was a huge affair. The stage was occupied by prominent Democrats and the members of the press. The Committee on Decoration had failed to exhibit the slightest manifestation of being in existence.

At eleven o'clock, Hon. John G. Thompson, Chairman of the State Central Committee, rapped to order. He said: "It is too hot to indulge in any speech, and hence I shall not attempt one."

The following temporary organization was announced: Chairman, James Edwin Spear, of Hamilton county; Secretary, William J. Gleason, of Cuyahoga county; Assistants, Thomas Wetzler, of Fairfield county, and George Maul, Erie county.

After a few minutes delay Mr. Spear appeared within the hall and was loudly applauded. He was graciously presented by Mr. Thompson, and spoke as follows:

SPEECH OF HON. J. E. SPEER.

Gentlemen of the Convention:

The Democracy of Ohio are once more gathered together to pay their annual vows. We are marking another circle in the years of the oak. We are met to add one more leaf to the perennial laurel. We are assembled to thank God and take courage, like Paul at the Three Taverns. We have not finished the course, but we have fought the good fight and we have kept the faith. Though years in the wilderness, the true Democracy, like the Children of Israel, finds water in the rocks and manna on the ground. In its exalted mission to lift the lowly, Democracy in defeat is a conqueror. When Socrates, the sublime, barefooted Democrat, proclaimed the doctrine that the King was no greater than his subject, Athens gave him hemlock, but the doctrine lived. When to intimidate the people, Lord Russell, a modern Democrat, was drawn in an open coach through the streets of London to the place of his execution, the multitude, we are told, imagined they saw Liberty and Virtue sitting by his side. When Sir Harry Vane, another Democrat, was dragged up Tower Hill to be beheaded, a keen-eyed Englishman said, "You never sat on so glorious a seat." Democracy in chains may be a victor; but now the Ohio Democracy, in the hour of pride and hope should abate no effort, should omit no vigilance, to make our great cause triumph in victory.

The election upon which we are entering is a State election—a local election for local officers. It would ill become me even to suggest to the Convention what its action should be upon any subject springing up before it. Current events invite its attention to several important topics.

Whether or not, as the humanities are non-partisan, the management of the charitable institutions of the State should be free from partisan changes or appointments; whether or not the legislative sessions of the General Assembly should be permanently shortened; whether or not the late Republican Legislature was well behaved; whether or not Ohio should vote in November with the other States, that voters may not be led into temptation; whether or not taxation should be lower and more equitably distributed; whether or not convict labor should be allowed to impoverish honest labor, making the criminal, during punishment as before, the destroyer of honest men; whether or not the merit system is better than the spoils system in the civil service of the country; whether or not the intimidation of voters by capitalists and employees of men is hostile to the spirit of free institution and a peril to the Republic. Whether or not the farmers of Ohio have an equal chance before the law and the fact to these questions, or to some of these and to some others pertinent to this State election, the Convention, I doubt not, will address itself with wisdom and patriotism.

Gentlemen, I thank you for your courtesy, and will show my gratitude by detaining you no longer from the business of the Convention.

Mr. James W. Newman, of Scioto county, said all resolutions be submitted to the Committee on Resolutions without debate. Carried.

The call of the districts was then commenced for the various Committees, with the following results:

- Upon conclusion of the call, Hon. J.

L. Vance, of Gallia moved to take a recess until 2 P. M. He withdrew the motion to allow Hon. Ben. Le. Fevre to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Ohio in Convention assembled should instruct their representatives in Congress to urge the passage of a law to protect farmers against the encroachments of all monopolies of whatever character.

It was referred to the Committee on Resolutions without debate.

Mr. James T. Irvine then had referred the following:

Resolved, That there should be a tariff for revenue levied and adjusted in its details with a view to equity in the public burdens and the encouragement of productive industries without creating monopolies.

The motion of J. L. Vance then was put and the convention adjourned until 2 P. M. after the following places were announced for the meeting of the committees:

Committee on Credentials—Auditor of State's Office, Room 9.

Committee on Permanent Organization. Rules and Order of business—Auditor of State's Office, Room 10.

Committee on Resolutions—Attorney General's office.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention was again called to order at 2 p. m. by chairman Spear. It was many minutes before the gallery could be silenced. It was filled by the visiting delegations favoring Bookwalter and they cheered lustily for their favorite.

They subsided once and Mr. Spear called for the report of the Credentials Committee. The chairman was not present and again the gallery opened out with a shout. The chairman pluckily announced that the galleries would be cleared if the noise continued. This had the proper effect and the visitors afterwards hissed the few of their number who persisted in raising an uproar.

After much delay, Mr. P. H. Kelley, of Washington, of the committee on credentials, reported that all counties were full and but two contests—both in Hamilton county.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

Col. Dan. Elmannag read the report as follows:

For Permanent Chairman—Thomas E. Powell, of Delaware.

Secretary—W. T. Albertson, Ashland.

Assistant Secretaries—W. G. Cooper, Meigs; T. J. Cozan, Hamilton; Dr. R. G. Williams, Stark; Thomas Wetzler, Fairfield; J. D. Selzer, Cuyahoga; E. S. Dodd, Lucas.

Vice Presidents—1. B. Arnold, Hamilton; 2. W. M. Ramsey, Hamilton; 3. W. C. Warren, 4. G. W. Moore, Darke; 5. P. H. Moore, Paulding; 6. H. Kahlo, Lucas; 7. F. W. Hagan, Pike; 8. J. Sweetland, Miami; 9. J. D. Thompson, Knox; 10. G. E. Seneca, 11. W. C. Gould, Jackson; 12. J. Reinhardt, Franklin; 13. J. M. Burt, Coshocton; 14. B. Barnes, Richland; 15. J. M. Miller, Meigs; 16. J. H. Brown, Noble; 17. J. Spence, Carroll; 18. J. Geissinger, Medina; 19. H. D. Hunt, Trumbull; 20. J. Barber, Cuyahoga.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Governor.

Lieutenant Governor.

Supreme Judge.

Attorney General.

Treasurer of State.

Member Board of Public Works.

Same as those governing the General Assembly of Ohio.

Col. Powell, upon assuming the chair, said:

Gentlemen of the Convention:

It is with feelings of the deepest obligations I thank you for the honor just conferred upon me. In return I promise to detain you only to congratulate you upon the auspicious manner in which we are about to enter upon this campaign. We are about to renew the old struggle; we are about to enter upon the old fight. It is one in which we have been some times defeated, often defeated, but never subdued. The smoke of the last contest has just cleared away, and here we are upon our feet again, fresh, fearless, and in this coming contest, I trust, invincible. The very cause for which we fight gives us additional assurances of success. It is the cause of civil liberty. It is the struggle to preserve free institutions, to-day the struggle to preserve the States and their vested rights against the proud spirit of centralization. To protect individual rights against encroachments of corporate power. It is the effort to re-establish the landmark of the Government of our fathers. To reaffirm their teachings and their principles. To replant the corner-stones of individual rights and individual liberty. To this cause we present to-day a united and determined party. Within our borders there are no factions and no dissensions. Our rank and file is fired with enthusiasm and is full of hope and confidence. We ask for a nice, able and faithful leader and then we can and will go forth to take possession and govern the great State of Ohio.

Remember this Commonwealth is worthy of our highest and best exertions. No other State possesses such a brilliant record. We have a greater population to-day than all the thirteen Colonies possessed, when for the cause of Liberty they declared war against Great Britain, then the greatest power on earth, and the absolute mistress of the high seas. When Ohio was admitted into the Union, it was the 17th State. But by the intelligence, enterprise and industry of her citizens, she has been rapidly brought up until to-day she stands the 3d State in the Union. In the great race of life, of wealth, intelligence, prosperity, and political power she has outrun and passed fourteen of her sister States. She has already succeeded Virginia and become the second mother of Presidents. She has been both the cradle and nurse of our leading men in every branch and department of the public service. It is now an open question whether it is better to be born great or to be born in Ohio. Whoever is born as our candidate to-day will be born great and born to be the next Governor of Ohio. To-day this State holds within her borders the center of population of this great nation. There is one other coming glory we can give her, that is, to make her the hearthstone of free and liberal institutions and the central home of Democracy of this great Union.

Once against us we see a party divided and torn by factions led by jealous and hostile leaders, corrupted and debauched with the spirit and plunder of office. It is at this hour covered with the leprosy of its last great scandal, and even the very stars of the universe and robbed mail routes are shining for its defeat.

The high flown pride of the radical party must soon break under it. It must fall, and when it falls it falls like Lucifer, never to rise again.

The Republican party has always presented to the people for Chief Magistrate a man who at least has been suspected of promoting his canvass by the use of money. Let us determine that the Governor of this great State shall be like the wife of Caesar, pure and above suspicion and that no man shall be permitted a second time to occupy the Executive chair who has ever been even suspected of the crime of debauching our people by the corrupt use of money. A well grounded suspicion does exist in one case, let us defeat history and set him aside.

The names of many leaders will be presented to you to-day, all of them good and true, all of them have proven their fidelity to the cause. We are here to fight none. We make war on none. We send greeting to all. We can say our affairs are at full tide. Let the right man take it at the flood and lead on to victory.

As agents of the people we now hold in trust not only the success of our party in this State, but its ultimate fortunes to the nation. Wise and right action here to-day will result in good government, good ground which in October will return you a harvest of at least a hundred fold. I have but one word more. Let us enter upon this campaign with new hope and new courage, and then with union and firm faith and firm accord we can go forth and win this State. We can carry it back to the ancient landmark and principles and send it forward upon a new career of greatness and glory.

Mr. Allen O. Myers said that the Committee on Resolutions would not be ready to report for an hour. The rules were suspended and on motion nomination for Governor were proceeded with.

Mr. Evans Williams, of Springfield, then mounted the stage and nominated John W. Bookwalter. At the mention of the name the gallery began a short tirade of applause, which was thrice repeated before Mr. Williams concluded.

The speaker made a brilliant eulogy of Mr. Bookwalter as an exponent of honest toil, and a friend of the laborer. "Give a rest," was heard from one quarter. The speaker used fine oratory, but long.

Charles N. Anderson, of Darke, seconded the nomination. The uproar again was heard.

Mr. Michael Ryan, of Cincinnati, named Isaac J. Miller, of Hamilton county. Hisses were heard from the gallery, when the speaker said that the Democracy of Ohio would need the support of Hamilton county. His allusions to tapping barrels were missed. Mr. Miller was most highly eulogized as a life long Democrat.

A motion to limit nominating speeches to five minutes was lost.

Judge Samuel H. Hunter presented Judge John F. Follett, of Hamilton county. He eulogized Judge Follett as a life long Democrat, one that had labored long for his party without reward. He asked the convention what they loved best, "Money or Liberty?"

Hon. W. D. Hill, of Defiance county, seconded the nomination of Follett. His remarks were short and to the point.

Hon. E. F. Poppleton, of Delaware county, nominated Judge Geo. W. Geddes, of Richland. He cited the convention to the ability and popularity of his candidate, he said he could poll not only the full party vote, but would draw heavily from the Republican ranks.

H. A. Andrews, of Zanesville, nominated Geo. M. Jewett, of Muskingum county, on behalf of the young Democracy.

Geo. George W. Morgan, of Knox county, nominated Henry B. Banning, of Hamilton county. He reviewed his war services and his great achievement in defeating Hayes for Congress.

J. B. Hughes, of Butler, nominated Judge L. D. Thoman, of Mahoning.

J. H. Clark, of Mahoning, seconded the nomination of Judge Thoman.

Hon. Wm. M. Ramsey, of Hamilton, said that at this juncture he should name an angelic being, but his man was one of the same physical and mental limitations and spiritual infirmities as other men. He named Theodore Cook, of Cincinnati.

James B. Molony, of Hamilton county, seconded the nomination of H. B. Banning.

A motion of James T. Irvine, of Zanesville, to reconsider the report of the Committee on Rules, was tabled. The call for the first ballot began, when the Cuyahoga delegation voted for W. W. Armstrong, of the Plaindealer. The applause was good natured.

When the ballot was finished Portage county wanted to change her vote. The Chair announced that no change by the rule could be made pending the call. An appeal was asked but not pressed. This was the dilemma that James T. Irvine, of Zanesville foresaw.

The ballot resulted: Bookwalter 202½, Follett 123, Geddes 104½, Miller 33, Cook 33, Thoman 49, Banning 61, Jewett 23, Armstrong 47.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

Pending computation of the first ballot, Hon. Gibson Atherton read the following report for the Committee on Resolutions:

PREAMBLE—The Democrats of Ohio, proud of their citizenship in this great State, for the purpose of maintaining the prosperity of the commonwealth and to promote the welfare and happiness of the whole people, submit the following declaration of principles, upon which they ask the suffrages of the people.

The equality of all citizens before the law, equal taxation, impartial legislation, and a free and pure ballot as the corner stone of free institutions.

Opposition to monopolies and subsidies of all kind.

The strictest economy in National, State and local administrations, that labor may be lightly burdened.

The maintenance and advancement of the Common School system.

Resolved, That the abuses of the present contract system in our State Prison by which the products of criminal labor are brought into competition with the products of honest labor, to the great injury of the latter, is unwise and vicious, and should be corrected.

Resolved, That the course of the last Republican Legislature deserves the condemnation of the people for its incompetency, hypocrisy, its unnecessary and heavy increase in the burdens of taxation, and for the passage of numerous pernicious and unconstitutional acts, and for its reorganization of the State solely for the purpose and as a medium for the distribution of spoils.

Resolved, That as the humanities are non-partisan, and as the treatment of criminals should be non-political, the management of the charitable and punitive institutions of the State should be free from partisan changes or appointments.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a civil service reform, whereby offices shall be held to the public trusts to be administered for the public good, not spoils to be enjoyed as the reward of partisan zeal or service.

Resolved, That the Democrats of Ohio, in this year as in all years, are in favor of the largest individual liberty consistent with the public order, and are opposed to legislation merely sumptuary.

Resolved, That the recent discovery of enormous speculations in high Federal places, and the Republican attempt to purchase votes by open corruption, should convince the country that the Republican organization is not worthy of public confidence.

Resolved, That the power delegated to the General Government "to regulate commerce among the States," as well as the power reserved to the States to regulate commerce within their own borders, should both be exercised to prevent unjust discriminations, and unreasonable charges by our railroads.

A tariff for revenue, levied and adjusted in its details with a view to equity in the public burdens and the encouragement of productive industries without creating monopolies, and we favor the appointment of a Commissioner to suggest methods of revision which shall accomplish this result.

The committee also recommended the adoption of the following, though not including it in the platform:

Resolved, That we deeply deplore the recent attempt upon the life of the President of the United States by an assassin and denounce assassination in a Republic as the highest and most revolting of crimes and we extend to the President and his family our deepest sympathies and our earnest hopes that a speedy recovery may be vouchsafed him.

BOOKWALTER NOMINATED.

On the second ballot a large number of changes were made, and the final result was the nomination of Bookwalter, by 377, and the nomination was finally made unanimous.

The following nominations were made:

Governor—John W. Bookwalter, Clarke county.

Lieutenant Governor—Edgar M. Johnson, Hamilton county.

Supreme Judge—E. F. Bingham, of Franklin.

Attorney General—F. C. Daugherty, of Hardin.

Treasurer—A. P. Winslow, Cuyahoga.

Public Works—John Crowe, Defiance.

John Crowe.

[Defiance Democrat 14th.]

The Democratic State Convention, yesterday recognized the Northwest by placing on the ticket the name of John Crowe, Esq., of this place, as a candidate for Member of the Board of Public Works. This nomination was fit to be made. Mr. Crowe was raised from boyhood in this place, and from a poor boy he has grown to be one of our most substantial and leading business men. He is one of the largest manufacturers in this section and is a thoroughly practical man. He has long been identified with canal interests and should be elected, of which we have no doubt, he would bring to the office such a practical knowledge of the wants of the canal interests as would in a great measure restore the great water routes to their former importance. The Democracy and the people generally of this place will rejoice over the nomination of Mr. Crowe, and will zealously work for his election.

ANOTHER COMET.

Supposed to be the Comet of 1812.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 16.—Dr. Lewis Swift, the director of Warner's Observatory in this city, yesterday received a letter from Professor J. M. Schaeberle, of the Ann Arbor, Michigan University, stating that he had seen what appeared to be a comet, in right ascension, 5 hours 48 minutes, and declination north, 38 degrees 45 minutes, this morning at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Swift discovered a mass of luminous matter in very nearly the same position as the comet which is now receding from our view. He pronounces it to be a comet, quite bright, larger and more luminous than the last telescopic comet. It has a strong condensation, and is either moving directly from, or directly towards the earth.

The brilliant light of the moon and the approach of dawn interfered with the further observation of this new celestial visitor.

Dr. Swift has received Professor Schaeberle's claim for the Warner prize of $200 for the discovery of the comet.

This is the fourth comet that has appeared in our skies since the first of May. Dr. Swift is strongly of the opinion that this last one is the expected comet of 1812, whose return was set down as due in 1882 or possible 1881. The apparent motion of the comet is to the northwest.

Gave instantaneous relief. St. Jacobs Oil. Neuralgia. Prof. Tice.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"Oh, where are you going my pretty maid?"

"To do some shopping," she sweetly said,

"And where?" I asked in glad surprise;

"Oh, anywhere, where they advertise."

The 19th of October is suggested as the day for the national thanksgiving.
